The Washington Sentinel with this issue completes the 28th year of its existence.

Caldwell will be Cared For.

It is rumored that because of his "withdrawal" Gov. Caldwell will be cared for by the A.dministration. Only one construction will be placed upon such a rumor-if confirmed. We do not look for the ex Governor to expose himself to

Taxes and Debt,

Secretary Gage's report on our national debt, published Thursday morning, shows a reduction of $121,569,238 in the two years ending April 1 last. The Secretary points to it as a creditable fact considering the cost of the Philippine war. But the special war taxes have been collected all the time. Is it not about time to relieve the people of war taxes?

Highly Pleased,

Heinrich Haake, in his paper the Cincinnati Volksfreund, says that the fanatical cranks of the Ohio State Anti Saloon League are highly pleased with the result of the recent Republican State Convention. The lact that Cald well's nomination for Lieutenant Governor was turned down in order to make a bid for this tem perance vote is far from pleasing, however, to the liberal element, especially the Germans.

A Poor Outlook, The fallacy underlying all talk about our "greatest markets" being in "the Far East" is the assumption that Asiatic peoples will purchase of our manufactures as largely in propor ion to their num bers as Europeans. They will not. They simply cannot. They have neither the money nor the goods wherewith to pay for them. They would not buy them of us if they had, because they neither need them nor desire them.

Liquor Dealers in Buffalo,

Wednesday, September 25th, will be Liquor Dealers' Day at the Pan-American Expositon at Buffalo. The State Association of L'quor Dealers will close its sessions at Niagara Falls on that day, and the National Association will open. These events in themselves will attract many hundred liquor men. As both Associations will visit the Exposition on that day it will make the occasion doubly appropriate for all in the trade who can do so to make their visit at the same time, and take their families with thein. We look for a great reunion at that time of members of the trade from a thousand miles around Buffalo.

The Wacchter und Anzeiger, an influential German daily published in Cleveland, commenting on the State convention, says: "Who controlled the recent Republican State Convention held at Columbus? Mark Hanna and the Anti Saloon League. The latter demonstrated its influence over the convention by compelling Hanna to accede to its demand and turn down the nomination of Caldwell, the attorney of the Ohio State Brewers' Association. In compliance with the wishes of these fanatical cranks, who drove the convention to a cowardly surrender, offending and insulting by such action every liberal minded citizen in the State, Caldwell was forced to declare that he had voluntarily withdrawn "

Evans and Sickles.

Commissioner Evans under date ol June 20, 1899, wrote Gen. Sick-

If the soldiers were allowed to have their own ideas about this pension business there would be less criticism in it But there is a great army of interested fellows who are eternally and everlastingly stirring them up and making them believe they are not getting what the law allows them. The Commissioner could have used quires of foolscap in argument but he could not have stated the case more tersely and cor rectly. The veterans of our army are better treated than their colleagues in any other country in the world. The liberality of our Government in the matter of pensions leaves absolutely nothing to be desired. No man deserving of a pension is deprived of it-on the contrary, many not entitled to the Government's bounty are on the rolls, and from these and their attorneys and those who are posing, for profit or political rewards, as pines, 6,565.998; of Hawaii, 33,000 the friends of the old soldier, come | -a total of 7,611,398 - not far from

To Brewers!

On July 1 the new War Revenu bill becomes operative. Under its provisions the tax on beer is re duced from $1,85 to $1.60 per barrel. The saving is not what brewers were deserving of, but it is all that could be secured from Congress. It means a saving of upwards of $9,000,000 annually, and is, we hope, merely a precursor of larger reductions in, if not entire abolition of, the burdensome war levy by the coming Congress.

In speaking of this matter the SENTINEL indulges in sell congratulation, as it has a right to. In all the discussion bearing upon the question of a lower beer tax this paper took a leading part. Its arguments and influence were appre ciated by our patrons and bore truit in Congress, and we have no hesitation in saying that no news paper in the land did more to secure a partial acknowledgment of brewers' claims than did the SENTINEL.

Our position as the only and recognized representative of the brewers of the United States at the National Capital for more than a quarter of a century was recognized by Congressmen in appeals to its Editor for information bearing on brewers' affairs, and no request, regardless of labor and ex pense, ever went unanswered. In deed, on several occasions, special supplements of this paper were issued to supply the demand.

These are things we deem neces sary to bring to the attention of brewers at this time, when the publisher has under contemplation plans for the improvement of the paper, typographically and otherwise, with the view of increasing its usefulness to the industry in whose behalf it was established Symptoms multiply every daytheir latest illustration being in Ohio-that liquor dealers will have need at Washington of a paper devoted solely to their in | The latest communication on this terests. Renewed attacks on their business will be inaugurated the G. Maynard, of Gen. J. M. Schois possible to recruit to prevent the United States of America, inclos enactment of unfriendly laws. No paper has been more successful in this line in the past than the SENTINEL. This has been un reservedly conceded by our opponi ... We hope to be of aid to tla gain. It lies with those who have profited by our work to say whether we shall be. The publication of a newspaper at the Capital is an undertaking of no small proportions. It requires money to keep things going. Unfortun ately we have found more men ready to take advantage of our services without rendering an equivalent than the opposite. This is a situation that cannot exist. The laborer is worthy of his hire, and unless he receives it he is likely to seek other employment-How would the SENTINEL look in a Prohibition dress? We know how it would feel. Now, gentlemen, when you walk up to your local revenue office on July 1, and purchase stamps at a saving of 25 cents a barrel, kindly remember that you all-every one as Ohio Republicans have made ing it for you. Remember also, there are 60 cents of unnecessary taxation still remaining, and a hard fightis before you to secure repea!.

As fair men-as business menfor you without compensation. Don't ask the SENTINEL. Sit right down, when you return to your places of business, draw a check for a reasonable sum, forward it | inating two candidates for the Sento this office, and you will have tulfilled a moral obligation and local option-one having supsecured for future work an advocate who has been, and who can be again, a serviceable friend and representative at Washington. We need financial assistance to enable us to continue our work with facilities and on lines that will increase our usefulness to the brewers of the United States. We substantial response, and sincerely hope we will not be disappointed. Help the SENTINEL, and the SEN-TINEL will help you!

Catholics Under Our Fing. For Catholics the consoling as pect of the expansion policy is the immense strengthening of the Catholic element on American territory. The Catholic News has compiled from the directory for 1901 these figures:

The Catholic population of Porto Rico is 1,012,400; of the Philip our own Catholic population of Commissioner Evans' efforts to 10,774 989-making a grand total rates.

A Congressional Error,

Editorial opinion is still piling up in support of the now generally conceded failure of the Anti-Can teen law. At this rate the opening of Congress will witness the press of the country, outside of the Prohibition papers, which would not see anything good in the canteen if they could, unanimous for the repeal of this foolish law. Collier's Weekly is the latest addition to the ranks of the soldiers' friends.

The passage of the Anti Canteen law last year was a great surprise to the public and a disagreeable one to most of the officers of the army. They pre dicted that it would lead to excessive drinking by soldiers in the towns near the army posts, to lawlessness and to frequent desertions. Apparently, their predictions have been swiftly verified The enlisted men have resorted to the barrooms of nearby towns for their drink, and, once escaped from the vig ilance of their officers, they have drunk too much, as the officers said they would, and there have been disgraceful out. breaks of lawlessness, notably at 'Fort Snelling, in Minnesota, and at Fort Sheridan, near Chicago. Mr. Root, the Secretary of War, who joined with military experts in objecting to the enactment of the law, is collecting evidence of the effect of the abolition of the canteens, with the purpose of recommending a repeal, Senator Hawley, of Con necticut, one of the old soldiers in the Senate, who opposed the passage of the law, expects it will be repealed early in the session. This is the hope of Mr Root and nearly all army officers who it will be opposed by the Prohibitionists on the ground that the canteen system makes the Government a partner in the liquor business. But the public will hardly accept their point of view as its own in the face of almost overwhelming evidence of the real value of the canteen as a promoter of temperance. The public, excluding Prohibitionists and intolerant temperance people, want to do what is good for the soldier. He would be a better man and a better soldier if he dida't drink at all, but this counsel of perfection is of no weight against the fact that he does drink and that if he can't get his beer in a canteen under the eye of his officer he will get it elsewhere. That elsewhere is too often barroom in the slums, where he rugged and robbed or sent back to barracks an alcoholic wreck. Opposition to the operation of the anti canteen law has now been aroused in another direction. The old veterans have come to the assistance of their younger comrades and their words will have weight. subject is from Commander John coming winter, and there will be field Garrison, No. 1, Regular demand here for all the fighters it Army and Navy Union of the ing a copy of regulations adopted at a recent meeting of that garrison in this city expressing hearty concurrence in the action of the association of military surgeons in annual session at St. Paul, Minn., May 31, 1901, "recognizing that the abolition of the army canteen has resulted, and must inevitably result, in an increase of intemperance, insubordination, discontent, desertion, and disease;" deploring the action of Congress in abolishing the canteen, and recommending its re-establishment at the earliest possible date in the in terests of discipline and morality, In expressing concurrence in this action, the Gen. J. M. Schofield Garrison took occasion to ear nestly recommend the re-establish ment of the canteen as a part of the post exchange, on the ground that "it is for the best interests of both officers and men and to the service generally."

A lew more nominations such of you-owe a small percentage of the past few days along legislative that reduction to the WASHINGTON lines, says the Columbus Wine SENTINEL for services in secur- and Spirit News, and the party may as well go over body and soul to the Anti Saloon League. If aught is lacking look at the nomination of Harris, who followed Haskell as a local option law you would not ask any one to work author. Look at Tom Clark, put up by the Republicans in the home county of Governor Nash. Look again at the action of the home county of Governor Nash in nomate who are avowed supporters of ported the measure in the last Senate.

THERE was a time when Americans would have been touched in their keenest sympathies by the spectacle of a patriotic general and his officers, beaten in a brave fight for freedom, weeping as they surappeal to them for a quick and rendered their swords in token of submission and subjection-as Gen. Cailles and his staff did the other day at Santa Cruz, in the Philippines.

Theatrical,

The fine comedy of delicate sentiment

'Captain Lettarblair," in which E, H Sothern scored such great success some seasons ago, will be presented by the Lafayette Square Stock Company next week. The play was written by Miss Margaret Merington, author of many successful plays, and will live long as one of the most entertaining comedies ever produced by Mr Sothern, It showed him in a thoroughly attractive light role of a comedy lover, yet the sentiment at all times was true and sincere. The dialogue is sparkling. The plot is a very fragile thing, but that only makes the comedy all the more dainty It concerns the love affairs of a certain Capt. Lettarblair Litton, of the Royal Irish Fusiliers, for a certain Miss Fanny Hadden, heiress. He is penniless, and hence backward in his love affair. He is informed that a fortune is on its way to him in the mails. Eucouraged, he goes once again to propose to Fanny. But just before he arrives, he discovers that the villain has stolen his fortune, and he is again penniless. So he doesn't propose, in a very piquant and amusing scene. Later on the missing fortune is discovered and Lettarb'alr is free to continue his love making, with success this time. The play is full of humorous ncidents of an original character. For nstance, Fanny calls on Capt. Lettarblair in his rooms. As she comes in her dress catches in the door, which closes. The door knob is loose and falls to the floor. Without the knob she cannot open the door. As she stoops for the knob, she knocks it out of her reach. Thus she is held ignominiously a prisoner until Lettarblair releases her. Edwin Arden will be the Capt. Lettarblair next week, and Miss Minnie Radhave spoken on the subject. Of course | cliff will be the Fanny. The full strength of the company will be employed. As this will be the first production made under the personal direction of Mr. Arden, more than ordinary interest has been aroused.
